

Dimitri Ashkenazy
I take this step

“We are all variations on a light wave.”

These poems, from and for the soul, explore friendship, love and life with colourful imagery and veneration for the written word, gently encouraging us to explore both – the wave we all have in common, and our variations.

